

Solar 101 – Find out about TOPCU’s Solar Financing Programs

Start saving immediately. In some cases, your energy savings may even cover the cost of your loan!

If you’ve noticed solar panels popping up all around town, you might be on to something. More Tucson households have added solar to their homes this year than ever before. Homeowners are installing solar now to lock in the better rates that are available for a limited time. With affordable financing options from TOPCU, you can save money on your electric bill from day one. Going solar doesn’t mean unplugging from the electric company. You stay connected, get energy when you need it, and get credit for extra solar energy your home produces. However, this program is going away soon. Sign up for solar before the end of the summer, to lock in this program for 20 years, and reap the rewards of reliable, affordable solar energy. For more information about TOPCU’s solar loan program, call us or visit www.topcu.org/solar-loans.

“I would like to say what a pleasure it has been to work with both TFS (Technicians For Sustainability) and the Tucson Old Pueblo Credit Union. Setting up the solar loan was easy and our monthly payment is about equivalent to our power bill. The difference is we are investing in our home and are no longer reliant on fossil fuels. We even decided to remortgage our home with TOPCU. We feel that it is important to try and invest in and support the local community, so it is with great confidence that I recommend both TFS and the TOPCU.”
